The Sinclair had a benefit ball for the members of the orchestra on Saturday evening of last week. A gay masquerade dancing party on Friday evening was a feature of this large number of automobiles coming from distant points. It is noted in the White Mountains as having the loveliest view of Mount Washington to be had in the section.

LAKE SUNAPEE, N. H.

LAKE SUNAPEE, N. H., Sept. 13.—The Grand Hotel will remain open longer this season for late arrivals to accommodate the large colony of guests who wish to spend September in the mountains.

Motorists returning from various points and resorts further up the White Mountains came here in large numbers to pass several days before resuming their journey to New York and other cities throughout New England, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

With the advent of cooler days never has golf and many motor boat parties with the guests, and all day the tennis courts are filled with players. Moonlight nights filled the hearts of the young people with joy during the last week and many motor boat parties were arranged; canoeing was popular and even some enthusiastic night fishermen were noted along the shores of the lake.

Among automobile parties arriving during the last week were the following: Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Way and Miss Sargent, Glen Cove, L. I.; Mr. and Mrs. George Haddon, Westchester; Mrs. Ida J. POLAND SPRING.

POLAND SPRING, N. Y., Sept. 13.—The guests of Mrs. Wentworth's "at home" last week at the Campbello Cottage were entertained by readings from "The Golden Legend" and "Richard III." by E. S. Wentworth of New York, as well as by solos and duets of Mr. Wentworth and his sister, Miss Alice Wentworth. Accompanying them were played by Miss Jeanne Lefort of Paris.

Visitors at the Poland Spring House this week included Mr. and Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart of Paterson, N. J., who came in company with Master Garrett A. Hobart 3d and Master Donald MacAllister for a short stay at the Poland Spring House for September.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and their two children, with Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Woolfink of New York, were passing the season at Saranac Inn, which is headquarters for the social activities. The return of delightful weather has served the purpose of the numbers who delight in the joys of life in the open, and picnics to points of interest along the Saranac chain of lakes and by motor to other places have been features.

Though the tournaments are over there is still much interest in tennis and the large number of young people still here are engaged daily in a series of interesting events. Also there is much interest in golf.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bayne of New York, who arrived recently at Saranac Inn, will remain through this month. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes, Jr., of Washington, are here for the remainder of the season.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y. Sept. 13.—Work of extending from nine to eighteen holes the course of the St. Regis River Golf Club is well advanced, and in the fall, the new course, which will be the best in the Adirondacks, will be ready for next season. The large tract adjoining the present holdings that the club has purchased is over a region well suited for the purpose and the completed course will be replete with natural hazards.

Before closing their camps on the St. Regis chain of lakes members of the colony are making use of their motors on long and short trips.

The Rev. and Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes, who had been at the Stokes camp on the Upper St. Regis, motored to Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Pratt and their daughter, Miss Edith Pratt, whose engagement to Allan McLane, Jr., of Baltimore, was announced recently, motored to New York.

Mrs. E. Drexel Godfrey, who has been at the Godfrey camp on Osgood Lake throughout the season, motored with friends to Saranac Inn on the Upper Saranac Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. James returned recently from a motor trip through Maine. Paul Smith's Hotel has been a centre for motorists on the motor tours passing through the Adirondacks. En route to Manchester, Vt., J. H. Cowperthwaite of New York and a party of friends spent several days here.

Mrs. Frank Carpenter and Mrs. Charles E. Mitchell on the way to Poland Springs arrived at Paul Smith's. The Rev. and Mrs. William DeLaney of New York, going to Alexandria Bay, visited friends at Paul Smith's for a few days.

Mrs. L. Tiffany and her son George Tiffany, motoring to Manchester, Vt., were among those stopping at Paul Smith's.

face Inn early in the week, were Miss Marjorie Cook of New York, Miss Ella Clark of Brooklyn and Miss Irma Bowers of Waco, Tex. Capt. C. Koops of the Naval Academy, Annapolis, is a recent sojourner at Whiteface Inn.

John Seely Ward and friends motored from his camp in the Upper St. Regis Lake to visit friends at Whiteface Inn. Among those from New York who got here recently were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ayer, Col. and Mrs. Harold W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hopping, Capt. E. Spencer Miller 3d, Mr. and Mrs. M. Landay, Miss E. Landay and L. N. Gillette.

Before closing their camp on Lake Placid and returning to New York, Capt. and Mrs. William Barrett entertained a dinner for a few of their friends at the Stevens House. Mrs. Barrett was formerly Miss Alice Drexel.

Among sojourners at the Stevens House there is much interest in golf. A team match between players from the hotel and the Lake Placid club was followed by a large gallery. In one handicap event with twenty-eight starters F. B. Kester of New York was the winner, defeating J. W. Keller of New York, four and three. Low scores were made recently by Representative Thomas F. Smith, who has been passing the season visiting at Southampton, are now at their Westbury home.

From Manhattan—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Gunther, Mrs. A. J. Quans and Mrs. Theresa Quans, W. D. Forest Wright, Mrs. Wright, the Misses Wright and Wilkinson D. Wright, Jr., Mrs. J. H. Ellibek and Montgomery C. Ellibek, Mrs. H. P. Erskine, Mrs. Graham Davis and Miss Natalie Davis, A. F. Lafrantz, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Kibbe, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. John Bess, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bissell, Miss Katharine Bissell, J. B. Bissell, Jr., Lord and Lady George Wellesley, Judge and Mrs. A. A. Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldron P. Balkan.

From Brooklyn—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Coates, Mrs. Charles A. Candee, Arthur K. Brown, Mrs. John F. Talmage, E. H. Barnes and Miss Beatrice Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Deland Nickel and Mr. Andrew Melton at his new home on the Dunes.

The Friday evening hops at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club were popular as the New Yorkers in which they served luncheons. The Saturday evening dances at the Meadow Club also proved popular. Both these entertainments will be continued through the season.

Besides all the entertaining the summer colony found time to devote to charitable efforts, foremost among which were the country fair and masque of Quaker Field for the benefit of the Southampton Hospital, and which netted some $15,000; the pantomime dance at Mrs. H. H. Rogers's villa for the widows and children of officers fallen in battle; and the white elephant sale held for the benefit of the Southampton Fresh Air Home for Crippled Children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stevens closed their house this week and will move to New York before making plans for the winter. Mrs. J. G. Woodbury also closed her home here and is in New York.

Mrs. Philip D. Armour of Chicago, who had a cottage here last summer, is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Condon on Shinnecock Hills. She has also spent some time with Mr. Armour's mother, Mrs. A. A. Valentine. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stevens closed their house this week and will move to New York before making plans for the winter. Mrs. J. G. Woodbury also closed her home here and is in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Ellsworth, who came from England recently and leased the Carnegie cottage here, will go to New York soon. They have leased 925 Park avenue and will spend the winter there.

Lord Lawrence Finley of Toronto, who had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Davis at their villa on Shinnecock Hills, is now beginning his stay at The Count and Countess de Zappolo, who had a cottage at Southampton for the summer, will sail for France October 1 for the winter. Mrs. Robert McCormick, who had a cottage at Southampton, closed the place and went to Washington on Friday to join her son, Senator Medill McCormick.

GLOUCESTER, MASS.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 13.—A tornado sweeping over the north shore last Monday did considerable damage to property and proved a serious loss to the town. A huge building erected on Salt Island, on the sea coast, near Bass Rocks, by the Fox Film Company, was blown to sea by the terrific wind, and several residents saw the happenings from their homes.

The Payne Whitney's of New York have been occupying Thimblewood at Mingo Beach, Rhode Island, since the summer. Miss Emily May and her family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitney, and their children, the Misses Edith and Helen Gifford of Hudson, N. Y., are guests at the Hotel Thimblewood, Bass Rocks, as is Judge Frank Kline of New York.

Booth Tarkington is guest at Hotel Moorland, Bass Rocks, having been called to Gloucester owing to the serious illness of his nephew, Booth Tarkington, Jr., who is now in a new building almost every highway of Long Island. Many of the motorists visited the Long Island aviation centres and Camp Mills, where are quartered "Pershing's" regiment, the Third Composite, selected from six entire divisions in France. The Eighteenth Infantry Regiment is also with the Pershing men, to whom until Tuesday, when they started for Washington for Thursday's parade.

Many social events and other entertainments were given for the officers of the Pershing men, and their families, at the Hemstead place. Relatives of the men came from distant points and reunions were held at the Garden City Hotel.

Commencing on September 23 the Mineola fair will be held on its grounds on the old country road. The horse show will bring out some of the finest types of horses and polo ponies for sale for a number of years on Long Island.

Lord and Lady George Wellesley are at the Garden City Hotel for an extended stay. Mr. and Mrs. George Wellesley, who have been in the country for a number of years, are also there.

Polo will be played throughout September at the Meadow Brook Club and adjacent fields of the club members living at Westbury, Wheatley Hills and the Piping Rock sections.

visiting at Southampton, are now at their Westbury home.

SOUTHAMPTON.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 13.—There is drawing to close here one of the most successful seasons that this beautiful seashore resort has ever seen. Cottages that have stood idle season after season have been occupied, and many had to be turned away disappointed, being unable to get a cottage here.

The entertaining was on a larger scale and more brilliant than ever before. House parties and social gatherings were given in such great numbers that in some cases two, three and even four would fall on the same evening, and the guests were kept busy getting from one to the other.

Noteworthy among the dinners given were those by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin at their beautiful villa on Peconic Bay early in the season by Clarence Mackay, when his daughter Katherine was formally introduced at her home, the Orchards; by Mrs. H. H. Rogers at her Italian villa on the Dunes; by Mr. and Mrs. Deland Nickel and Mr. Andrew Melton at his new home on the Dunes.

The Friday evening hops at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club were popular as the New Yorkers in which they served luncheons. The Saturday evening dances at the Meadow Club also proved popular. Both these entertainments will be continued through the season.

Lambs Club Members Making Plans for Sportsmen's Club on Tract of 2,500 Acres in Adirondacks.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Definite steps have been taken toward the organization of a sportsmen's club consisting largely of members of the Lambs Club of New York, which is to take possession of a large tract of forest land near this resort next season. On behalf of the proposed organization Edward Flammer of the Lambs Club; Benjamin F. Stetson, proprietor of Deer's Head Inn, here; David S. Ludlow, president of the Autocar Company of Ardmore, Pa., who has a cottage here, and Howard S. Reber of Philadelphia, another cottager, who annually spends the summer here, have jointly taken title to a tract of about 2,500 acres, which includes most of Mount Saddleback and Mount Hurricane. It is one of the finest pieces of forest land in the Adirondacks outside the holdings of the State. The tract is watered by some of the best trout streams in the region and includes several lakes of considerable size. A number of cottages will be occupied by members of the Lambs Club. There will also be a fish hatchery.

A portion of the proposed park is near Mr. Flammer's new cottage, Slinging Waters, where he and Mrs. Flammer will remain through September. The masquerade with which they recently entertained about fifty of their friends proved one of the most enjoyable events of the season here. In the dancing contest, which was a burlesque on the modern dances, first prize went to Miss Fannie Levine and Lieut. Harry Underwood of New York, who were not in costume; second prize was won by Mrs. David Ludlow, who appeared as Carmen, and Benjamin F. Stetson, who made his costume in the beautiful Oriental style. Winners in the peanut hunt were Mrs. Christian Moller of Hoboken and H. N. Allen of New York.

Members of the Flammer House party appearing in costume included Mrs. E. F. Kelly of New York as an Irish colleen; Miss Mae Andrews, also of New York, in a beautiful Oriental costume originally prepared for the "Chu Chin Chow" ball in New York; Barney Bernard of New York, in a bathing suit designed for a stout woman, and Capt. William Harrigan, of New York, as a blond girl. Howard S. Reber was in Oriental costume and Mrs. Reber in a Spanish gown.

"Time to Retire" and "Jane the Cook." Mrs. Harry Allen of New York appeared as Time to Retire and Mr. Allen as a Dutch boy. Mrs. J. Daub of New York was Jane the Cook, and Mrs. Leda Clason of Summit, N. J., made a fetching Yama-Yama girl. Mrs. Leonard Lansing of New York made a fine Wild West girl, while her husband was Bill Hart.

Mrs. Flammer was attractive as Pledette. Mr. Flammer as Steve the bartender kept his guests in an uproar.

Persons who have helped to keep September merry at Deer's Head Inn were Mrs. Christian Moller of Hoboken, who gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Flammer and the members of their house party, and Mrs. Howard Reber of Philadelphia entertained at their cottage with a dinner party for thirty-five, including Mr. and Mrs. Flammer and the members of their house party.

Recently arrived members of the Flammer party include Mrs. C. C. McEwen, of Summit, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Allen, of New York, and Frank Morris of Pelham.

In the golf finals Mrs. William S. Kellerman of New York won the women's championship, open to members of the Cobble Hill Club only, defeating Miss Margaret Struss of Brooklyn, who has been spending the season at the Windsor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Struss.

A dinner was given recently in the dining room of the Windsor by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mollenhauer of Brooklyn in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McEwen, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fairchild and Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Struss of Brooklyn.

Mayor Hyman Visits Resort. Mayor and Mrs. Hyman and a party of friends on a brief motor trip to Lake Placid and Bluff Point stopped at Deer's Head Inn for a short visit.

Members of a party from New York who have been at Deer's Head Inn and dividing the time between golf and motoring include A. L. Smallwood, J. S. Dooly, G. A. Pettibone and J. Reddy, all of New York. They recently arrived at Deer's Head Inn include Miss Laura Lawson, Miss Pauline Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wile and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Nassort.

Dr. E. B. Munger, U. S. N., of Hampton Roads and Mrs. Munger, who arrived on a motor tour of the mountains, were among those passing a few days at the Windsor. Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Cook of Poughkeepsie have arrived at the Windsor.

Among those from New York recently arrived at the Windsor were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hicken, Miss Helen Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuchsel, Miss Mary Mohr, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Johnson, Henry E. Bang, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ludwig, Harold and Leslie Ludwig, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Scheffin, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Stroud and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Watson.

London and Groton to enable them to cross the river.

In the past automobile parties were delayed for some time, awaiting their turn on the ferries. The opening of the new bridge is in reality the old railroad drawbridge taken over by the State and considerably altered, will be a gala occasion for New London. The Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a celebration in honor of the event.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Chaffee, who have been living in Washington, D. C., for several years, arrived from duty overseas, arrived early in the week and are registered at the Mohican. Col. Chaffee recently received his discharge from the army.

Herbert L. Brans, of the War Camp Community Service, entertained the members of the executive committee of the welcoming home celebration at all the hotels and at the Mohican Hotel Wednesday evening.

The marriage of Mrs. Sally Garde de Funiak, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Garde of the Mohican Hotel, to Newton Hilbert Corwin, of New York, took place Sunday in the summer home of the bridegroom's parents, Crescent Beach. The Rev. George H. Wright of Niantic performed the ceremony.

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, who arrived from Washington last week, is spending a few days at the Mohican, where she has been spending her time between Oswego and this city. When in town Miss Wilson registers at the Mohican.

Visitors at New London

New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—Many persons pack their handbags, straps and trunks after Labor Day and start back from the seashore, mountain and country resorts. They simply follow an old time custom. When they reach New York by train or motor cars they find palm leaf fans, electric fans and ice water popular.
